

Life Long Learning and Cultural Diversity as Competitive Advantage

- When do you think about life long learning, what are you talking about?
- And when do you think about cultural diversity as competitive advantage ?

Life Long Learning Is a Goal

- In my business life, I have always one thing in mind: improve myself for improving my businesses. Japan people use the word: "Kaizen". English translation is "continuous improvement".

Cultural Diversity Is the Tool

- Cultural diversity allows us going outside our world, our environment, our way of thinking and in a few minutes we will see our life in another way.
- No better or worse. Just different.
- Cultural diversity will help us for our growth.

Internship Programme Is the Best Tool

- Internship programme is the best tool for growing in personal and professional life (they are linked), because for these guys going outside their world will open their mind more than everything else.

How an Internship Programme Can Help You

- You will start thinking in another way.
- You will live, discover and grow faster.
- You will learn how a few you know about the world.
- And, above all, you will have to find a way to survive.
